1. Separate your hair and pin top section of hair on top of head.
2. Twist a small section of your hair at your hairline just above your ear. Attach hair clip to this section then gently pull backward around the back of your head to attach the second clip on the other side. Adjust placement of hair clip to find the best comfortable fit for you. The level of resistance form one clip to the other depends on the placement of the hair clip. Find the best comfortable fit that suits you. Place long hair strand on top and over to the other side to cover the band and pin in place.
